

Judge Jim Rogers

Judge Rogers has served in King County Superior Court, Department 45, since January 2005. He graduated from the University of Washington in 1982 and Georgetown University Law Center in 1988. He began his legal career as a clerk for Federal Judge Robert J. Bryan. He then worked in civil practice, mostly on commercial cases, at the Riddell Williams law firm from 1989-94, and in criminal practice, as a deputy prosecutor for the King County Prosecutor's Office, working largely in the Special Assault Unit and Most Dangerous Offenders Project, from 1994-2004. He served as a Peace Corps Volunteer in Sierra Leone from 1982-84. He and his wife have two children. He has been involved in Court governance and has volunteered for a wide variety of legal and non-legal activities.